2024 Employee Engagement and Core Theme Scores

OFFICIAL SENSITIVE

This page includes the findings for your organisation and at Civil Service Level for employee engagement and the nine core themes: my work, organisational objectives, my manager, my team, learning and development; inclusion and fair treatment; resources and workload; pay and benefits; leadership and managing change. A comparison between 2024 and 2023 scores is also included.

The scores are presented in the following order: your percent positive theme score first (in blue), then your percent neutral (in grey), and at the end your percent negative (in orange).

Employee Engagement

Employee engagement is a workplace approach designed to ensure that employees are committed to their organisation's goals and values, and are motivated to contribute to organisational success. We use five questions (B47 - B51) in the People Survey to measure employee engagement, and combine all responses (positive, neutral and negative) into a summary index score to tell you where they sit on a scale of very disengaged (0%) through to very engaged (100%). This is different to how the theme scores (such as My Work) are calculated.

The Civil Service Employee Engagement Index (EEI) benchmark in 2024 is 64%.

It is unchanged compared to 2023 (64% median score).

The graphs present your EEI for 2024 and 2023 and the five questions that are used to calculate your EEI.

For each question, we've looked at the difference between the proportion of your employees who responded favourably (i.e. selected agree or strongly agree), and compared this to your 2023 results, your parent, and the Civil Service Benchmark.

If the difference is statistically significant, giving us confidence that the difference is not due to random chance, then an arrow will appear. If the arrow is pointing downwards "v" then your score is significantly lower than the comparison; if it is pointing upwards "^" then it is significantly higher.

Core Theme Scores

There are nine core theme scores within the Civil Service People Survey. Each theme measures a different dimension of employee experience at work, which are known to have a strong relationship with engagement levels. In the next section you'll find your overall theme score, plus the results for the individual questions underpinning each theme. Unlike the engagement score only positive responses count towards these scores. Findings in the graphs in this page are always presented as percentage positive first (in blue), followed by percentage neutral (in grey) and then percentage negative (in orange).

2024 Personal Wellbeing

OFFICIAL SENSITIVE

The four questions (W01-04) are used by the Office for National Statistics (ONS) to monitor wellbeing across the UK, as part of their Measuring National Wellbeing Programme. One of the main benefits of collecting information in this way, is that it is based on people's views of their own individual wellbeing and takes account of what matters to people by allowing them to decide what is important when they respond to questions.

A comparison between 2024 and 2023 scores is also included.

The scores are presented in the following order: your percent positive theme score first (in blue), then your percent neutral (in grey), and at the end your percent negative (in orange).

Personal wellbeing response scale

The four questions on personal wellbeing use a response scale that ranges from 0 to 10, as shown below. You'll see that the scale is reversed for question W04, where the percent 'favourable' in blue is the proportion of respondents who said they have experienced low or very low levels of anxiety.

Response scale for questions W01, W02 and W03

High (7-8) or Very High (9-10) in blue

Medium (5-6) in grey

Low (0-4) in orange

Response scale for questions W04

Very Low (0-2) or Low (2-3) in blue

Medium (4-5) in grey

High (6-10) in orange

Response scale for questions W09

Strongly agree, Agree (4-5) in blue

Neither agree nor disagree in grey (3)

Disagree, Strongly disagree in orange (1-2)

Response scale for questions W10

Weekly, Monthly (4-5) in blue

Quarterly in grey (3)

Annually, never in orange (1-2)

The percent favourable represents the proportion of respondents who reported high or very high satisfaction or happiness levels, and the proportion who reported low or very low anxiety levels.

In 2024 at Civil Service Level:

W01. 68% of respondents are satisfied with their life nowadays (67% in 2023);

W02. 71% think that the things they do in their life are worthwhile (70% in 2023);

W03. 63% indicated that they felt happy yesterday (61% in 2023);

W04. 35% felt anxious yesterday (35% in 2023);

Wellbeing Support

W09. 60% think that their organisation provides good support for employee health, wellbeing and resilience (60% in 2023);

W10. 60% indicate that they discuss their personal wellbeing or work-related stress with their manager on a weekly or monthly basis (59% in 2023).

The graphs in the next sections present the findings for these questions for the organisation or team you have selected.

2024 Mental Health and Physical Health

To help organisations and teams understand what they can do better to support those with mental and physical health problems to remain in and thrive through work, we asked two questions specifically on these topics (based on the World Health Organization's Health and Work Performance Questionnaire). Due to the Coronavirus pandemic many of us changed the frequency we work at an office or traditional workplace. This meant working from home without office equipment so we have included a question on musculoskeletal disorders.

J04B. In 2024 73% of civil servants who responded to the survey, self-reported their overall mental health to be excellent, very good or good. 72% in 2023.

W05. In 2024 72% of civil servants who responded to the survey self-reported their overall physical health to be excellent, very good or good. 72% in 2023.

W06. In 2024 26% of civil servants self-reported that in the last year they have experienced musculoskeletal problems (MSD). 25% in 2023.

Please note that those who agreed or strongly agreed with the statement 'In the last 12 months I have experienced musculoskeletal problems' have been coded as "experienced MSD". Those who disagreed or strongly disagreed have been coded as "not experienced MSD". Those who answered 'neither agree nor disagree' are not shown.

The graphs in the next sections present the findings for the organisation or team you have selected.

2024 Factors influencing wellbeing

In the Civil Service People Survey we explore three main factors that can influence people's wellbeing: a stressful working environment; a flourishing working environment, and team support.

Stressful work environments

We use something called the Proxy Stress Index to measure conditions that can contribute to stressful environments. It is based on the following Health and Safety Executive stress management standards and People Survey insights:

Demands - 'I have an acceptable workload' (B33)

Control over work - 'I have a choice in deciding how I do my work' (B05)

Support - 'My manager motivates me to be more effective in my job' (B08) and 'I am treated with respect by the people I work with' (B26)

Relationships - 'The people in my team can be relied upon to help when things get difficult in my job' (B18) and 'During the past 12 months have you experienced bullying or harassment at work?' (E03)

Role in organisation - 'I have clear work objectives' (B30)

Change - 'I have the opportunity to contribute my views before decisions are made that affect me' (B45)

A score of 100% tells you that respondents gave the most negative response possible to all eight questions, suggesting they are operating in a highly stressful environment. A score of 0% tells you the opposite.

The 2024 Proxy Stress Index for all Civil Servants is 26%. 27% in 2023.

The graphs in the next sections present the Proxy Stress Indexes for 2024 and 2023 for the organisation or team you have selected.

Your Proxy Stress Index for 2024

Your Proxy Stress Index for 2023 43

Flourishing work environments

We use the PERMA Index to measure the extent to which employees are flourishing 'at work'. It is based on the work of psychologist Martin Seligman and looks at the following five dimensions of wellbeing and happiness, and People Survey insights:

Positive emotion - 'Overall, how satisfied are you with your life nowadays?' (W01)

Engagement - 'I am interested in my work' (B01)

Relationships - 'The people in my team can be relied upon to help when things get difficult in my job' (B18)

Meaning - 'Overall, to what extent do you feel the things you do in your life are worthwhile?' (W02)

Accomplishment - 'My work gives me a sense of personal accomplishment' (B03)

A score of 100% tells you that respondents gave the most positive response possible to all five questions, whereas a score of 0% tells you the opposite.

The 2024 PERMA Index for all Civil Servants is 74%. 74% in 2023.

OFFICIAL SENSITIVE

This page includes information on the support respondents receive if they have a disability or are carers and the comparison between the 2024 and 2023 data.
The scores are presented in the following order: your percent positive theme score first (in blue), then your percent neutral (in grey), and at the end your percent negative (in orange).

Support for disability

J04F

In 2024 73% of Civil Service colleagues with disabilities, conditions or illnesses agreed that their manager supports them to ensure they have the workplace adjustments they need to reduce the barriers they face due to their condition(s) or illness(es). 71% in 2023.

J04G

Of those colleagues that indicated to have a long-term condition:

- 16% said that they do have a workplace adjustment passport that helps them to get appropriate adjustment and support (compared to 12% in 2023);
- 4% said they do have a workplace adjustment passport but that doesn't help them to get the adjustment and support needed (compared to 4% in 2023);
- 67% said that they do not have a workplace adjustment passport (compared to 64% in 2023);
- 11% said that they do not know what a workplace adjustment passport is (compared to 20% in 2023).

2024 Taking Action

OFFICIAL SENSITIVE

This page includes the findings in relation to belief that action has and or will be taken as a result of completing the Civil Service People Survey, a focus on the top drivers of staff engagement, and a summary of respondents' intentions to stay or leave the organisation in the future. The scores are presented in the following order: your percent positive theme score first (in blue), then your percent neutral (in grey), and at the end your percent negative (in orange).

Did you know?...

Research suggests that teams are more likely to be engaged if time has been taken to study and understand their results, to build staff-led action plans.

It can also have an impact on how likely they are to participate in future insight gathering - people are less likely to contribute if their views are perceived to have been ignored in the past.

In 2024, at a Civil Service level (the median benchmark):

B52. 52% of respondents believe that senior managers in their organisation will take action on the results from the survey (51% in 2023);

B53. 38% of respondents indicated that where they work, they think effective action has been taken on the results of the last survey (38% in 2023).

The graph in the next section presents the results for the organisation or team you have selected.

Focus Areas

While the Engagement Index tells you how engaged your employees are, it does not tell you how to improve or maintain engagement. This is where key driver analysis comes in, as this pinpoints the factors that have the strongest association with your engagement levels.

The table below displays the five question results that have the strongest association with the engagement index (identified through correlation analysis) for the team or group of staff you are looking at, and ranks these in order of importance.

The order of importance is determined by something called an 'r' value, or Pearson Correlation Coefficient. If you hover over the blue dot in your key drivers table, you will see the r-value. The r-value can sit anywhere between -1 and 1. A positive r-value suggests that your engagement levels appear to increase as the % favourable score for a question increases; a negative r-value suggests the opposite. The larger the blue dot, the more that question is associated with your employee engagement score.

In the table, you'll also be able to see if these are areas that have improved or worsened over the past 12 months, where trend data is available.

In 2024, at Civil Service level, the correlation is as follows:

B41 Overall, I have confidence in the decisions made by [my organisation]'s senior managers. $r(350,615)=0.63$, $p<.001$

B43 When changes are made in [my organisation] they are usually for the better. $r(350,754)=0.61$, $p<.001$

B52 I believe that senior managers in [my organisation] will take action on the results from this survey. $r(350,754)=0.61$, $p<.001$

LQC4 I feel positive about the future of [my organisation]. $r(205,152)=0.70$, $p<.001$

LQK4 I would choose to remain working in [my organisation] even if I were offered a similar job elsewhere in the public sector. $r(21,877)=0.62$, $p<.001$

Response rate by team

The table in the next section presents the headcount (the column headed "Invited"), number of responses ("Responded"), and the response rate ("Participation Rate"), for each level of your organisation. Simply select the arrow next to each level of your hierarchy to expand it.

You can then download this table to JPG, PDF, CSV (opens in Excel), TSV or XLSX (Excel), by selecting the three dots and selecting Export.

Please note that you need to expand every level of the hierarchy you want to export, before exporting. Otherwise it will only export the units presented on the screen.

If you are using a family level login, the first row called 'overall' is your corporate level response rate (across all of your organisations and agencies).

Suppression - Please note that you will only be able to view response counts for teams that have received 10 or more responses.
